Carolina’s donors set a record with their generous support of the University and the Campaign for Carolina in fiscal year 2022, with commitments totaling $798.3 million to advance student opportunities, faculty research and scholarship, and initiatives benefiting North Carolina citizens and people around the world. This total exceeded the previous record, set in fiscal year 2018, by 29% and was 33% higher than fiscal year 2021. It marked the first time that Carolina has raised more than $700 million in a single year.

The performance also set a new record for cash gifts ($562.5 million), which came from 64,397 donors, and are available immediately to grow the University’s endowment or be put to work in support of its mission. And - well ahead of schedule - the Campaign for Carolina surpassed the $4.25 billion milestone during the year, finishing at $4.73 billion with gifts from 213,588 donors.
